

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

THEO. E. BARTLEY, Business Manager

TUESDAY, MAY 21, 1889.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mrs. W. L. Hickman is visiting at Dr. Hickman's.

Mrs. F. W. Dabney is visiting friends in Nashville.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson returned to Hartford yesterday.

Miss Mollie Campbell is visiting Miss Fannie Brethitt.

J. B. McKenzie has returned from a visit of several days to friends near Bennettsville.

Mrs. N. L. Stevens returned from a lengthy visit to relatives near Lebanon, Tenn., Saturday.

The Misses Gordon, the pretty twin belles of Columbia, Tenn., are visiting their relative, Mrs. M. H. Nelson.

Mr. James Underwood and sister, Miss Maggie, who have been visiting the family of Miss Mary Fruit, on lower Main, returned Friday to their home in Hopkinsville.—Henderson Journal.

Lieut. W. H. H. Southerland, of the U. S. Navy, arrived Friday and will remain at his father-in-law's, Dr. Rodman's, until Aug. 1st, when he will go to Washington, where he will be stationed for three years.

CREAM OF NEWS.

Railroad Cases.

Three railroad cases were tried in the Common Pleas Court last week.

Hobbs, Wright's Administrator sued the L. & N. for damages because Wright was killed while working with a hand car on the C. & P. branch. The jury gave $350 damages. No appeal will be taken.

The wife of Anthony Wright, col. got off or, as she claimed, was put off at Crofton instead of Empire as her ticket read. She sued for $2000 damages and the jury very properly decided in favor of the railroad.

A. J. Morris wanted damages for the delay of a funeral. He got on a construction train to go to a minister and was put off, as passengers are not allowed to ride on such trains. The funeral was delayed 5 hours and the jury on preliminary instructions from the Court, but against their judgment, gave a verdict of $100. This case will be appealed.

The juries this term have been men disposed to do justice to railroads as well as individuals, and a few more such verdicts as these will make the popular custom of suing the L. & N. for imaginary grievances an unprofitable business.

The Merritt Case.

The examining trial of Lewis Merritt was held before Judge Brashear Saturday and he was also tried for carrying a concealed deadly weapon. The facts brought out at the trial were about as previously published in the KENTUCKIAN. The Commonwealth was represented by Messrs. Payne and Breathitt and the defense by Ferguson and Townes. The plea entered to the charge of shooting was that the pistol was drawn to keep Prof. Dietrich off, as young Merritt expressed it, and that the weapon was discharged accidentally in the scuffle. Witnesses for the prosecution, however, testified that the pistol was cocked by the young man a second time before it was taken from him. The case was briefly argued by Messrs. Breathitt and Ferguson. The court held Merritt over under a bond of $100, taking his own recognizance, on the charge of shooting and fined him $40 and 10 days in jail for carrying the pistol, but suspended judgment in the matter of imprisonment.

A General Shake-up.

Eight of the eleven passenger conductors on the Southeastern division of the L. & N. Railroad and its local branches were notified on Friday to turn over their runs to other men. Those not notified were C. L. Wood and H. D. Cole, of the through trains, and Capt. Balch of the Elkton branch.

Those receiving notices were Henry Schewling, Jas. A. Reeve, R. M. Green, Otto Nash on through trains, and Sam Stites, of the Nashville accommodation, G. M. Riggins, of the Mt. Vernon accommodation, E. B. McEvilly, of the Providence branch and Wm. Wene, of the Evansville and Mt. Vernon accommodation. No explanations were given or causes assigned. The men dismissed are among the best officers who have ever been on this division and their popularity with the public may be the indirect cause of their removal. Capt. Hoskins succeeds Sam Stites on the Nashville accommodation and Capt. Zapp and Geo. White have been given two of the places on the through runs.

Bald Eagles.

Dr. H. B. Garner received by express last week from Col. Wheeler, of Houston, N. C., one of his old army friends, a pair of young bald eagles. The birds of freedom are about the size of guinea fowls when grown and are in a healthy state and good condition despite their long journey by rail. They belong to one of the largest species of the eagle family and bid fair to be magnificent specimens of our native bird. They are male and female.

Two Bad Bills.

Bill Sergeant, col. shot Bill Moody, col., in the hand Wednesday night, in a row at cabin near Fairview, on the Todd side of the county line. The injury was slight. The Bills were both collected and will be tried before Esq. Brewer.

Fire Saturday Night.

A cabin belonging to Mrs. Gobin, on the corner of Liberty and First streets, occupied by a colored family, was burned Saturday night about 9 o'clock. Losses not exceeding a few hundred dollars.

The closing exercises of Church Hill Academy, Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh, Principal, will be held at that place to-morrow evening. A lengthy program has been arranged and a pleasant time is expected.

The Louisville Times is authority for the statement that Dr. W. K. Nesbitt, Jas. A. Young and Andrew Seabright will be appointed pension examiners for Hopkinsville, vice Dr. J. L. Dulin, J. M. Dennis and T. W. Blakey.

A pupil in the public schools, who claims to know, says there are at least a dozen boys in the schools who carry pistols habitually. The duties of the Examining Board should be extended so as to cover the cases of these youngsters.

The bridge over McKnight's mill pond, in the north part of the county, suddenly gave way in the center and fell in the pond Sunday afternoon. Two persons passed over it a few moments before it gave way and narrowly escaped going down in the wreck.

Attention is called to the card of L. Gauchat, practical jeweler, Clarksville, Tenn., which appears in this issue. Mr. Gauchat is an experienced workman and the leading jeweler of Clarksville and work entrusted to him for repairs will receive prompt and careful attention. Read his card for fuller particulars.

B. Burrus was tried before Police Judge Hord and a jury of three, by consent, after five had been rejected, last Tuesday afternoon, on a charge of violating the corporation law in admitting persons into his business house on Sunday. He was convicted on four counts and fined $10 on each.—Pembroke Critter.

The title of Dr. Young's great lecture, which will be delivered at the Methodist Church next Thursday night, is "Twenty Thousand Miles by Land and Water." We again urge all persons to go, who have sufficient culture to appreciate a great orator, a fascinating subject and valuable information. It will cost only 25 cents.

Judge Tyler, of Clarksville, ordered C. W. Staton, who is both sheriff and jailer, to release a prisoner who was serving out a sentence in jail. Staton declined to do so without a pardon from the Governor for the man and the court fined him $100 and threatened to send him to jail. Staton has sued the Democrat for $5000 damages for publications reflecting on him.

Mr. Thomas Hanbery brought to our office yesterday a combined plow and hoe that our farmers should not fail to see. Tradition says that it was made and used before the Revolutionary War. It is shaped like an Indian arrow, with the addition of an eye for the handle, and doubtless was drawn by a horse or ox and also used as a hoe. It is a very rough piece of work and the rust of over a hundred years has made it still more so. It is the property of Mr. Joe Moore, of Wallonia. It was brought from Virginia over 80 years ago by a member of the Duncan family, of Trigg county. All desiring to see it can do so by calling at the warehouse of Hanbery & Shryer.

Dr. W. K. Lawrence of Clarksville, Tenn., has something to say in this issue which, if read, will prove beneficial in many ways. Dr. Lawrence, who has been a resident of Orlando, Fla. for several years past, is located in the Arlington Block, where he offers his professional services to the public. He makes a specialty of the diseases of the nose, throat, eye and ear and is fully prepared to treat the worst case at his office. His instruments are the finest, his outfit costing three thousand dollars or more. The afflicted would do well to consult him at once, either in person or by correspondence, which is solicited.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels; preventing fevers, headaches, and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Christian County Pomona Grange.

The next meeting of the Christian county Pomona Grange will be held with Fairview Grange on Saturday, June 1st, 1889, at 10 o'clock a.m. The following is the program:

Who is benefited by farmers reporting to assessors the acreage they intend to plant and sow, the farmer or the speculator?—Thomas Green.

Are farmers organizations beneficial to the average farmer?—M. B. King.

How will farmers be benefited by the creation of the office of Secretary of Agriculture?—Austin Peay.

What steps should be taken to increase the membership of the grange in Christian county and what relations should exist between the Pomona and subordinate granges? Dr. J. D. Clardy.

Some of the most important qualifications to insure success on the farm.—J. F. Garnett.

How can absent members be induced to give regular attendance to our meetings?—Dr. W. S. Petree.

Are patrons doing their whole duty as citizens to promote the moral welfare of our country?—T. H. Shaw.

Is it essential to the improvement of corn to change seed often?—Willie Baker.

How may we guard against the evil effects of Hessian fly in wheat?—G. W. Lander.

Do our present laws and system of government demand political action in the grange?—J. A. Kessee.

An opportunity will be extended to all to participate in the discussions. Let every patron in the county make it a point to be present on time on that day.

Sunken eyes, a pallid complexion, and disfiguring eruptions, indicate that there is something wrong within. Expel the lurking foe to health, by purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Cures Erysipelas, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Pimples, and Blisters. South Kentucky College.

About the 5th of June next there will be published several thousand copies of the "Annual Catalogue of South Kentucky College for the Session of 1888-9, together with the announcement for the session of 1889-90," which will give trustworthy information concerning the school.

The current session is drawing rapidly to a close. The session has been marked for the amount of study done by the pupils and work accomplished. The members of the faculty have been faithful and energetic in the discharge of their several duties, and the students have responded with a will to the demands made upon their energies.

The examinations will begin Tuesday, May the 28th, and will close Saturday, June 1st, prox. The commencement sermon will be preached Sunday evening, June 2nd, by Eld. M. C. Kurfus, of Louisville, Ky.

Tuesday, June 4th, there will be a final assembly of the faculty and students in the college chapel, the announcement of the standing of the students, and the formal close of the session.

Wednesday, June 5th, the "Joint Annual Exhibition" of the two literary societies will take place at the opera house, beginning at 8 p. m.

Thursday, June 6th, the regular commencement exercises, reading of essays and delivery of orations by the graduating class, conferring degrees, delivering diplomas and musical concert will take place at the opera house, beginning at 8 p. m.

Upon this occasion, Eld. B. J. Radford, of Eureka, Ill., will deliver the Baccalaureate address.

To all these exercises the public generally, and the friends of the institution especially, are most cordially invited. It would, indeed, be pleasing to the faculty and students to see present the Alumni of the College, and all former students.
